Primary Logos

The Primary Logos for Breg use a color gradient in the Breg Design Mark (>) and PMS 2728 for the BREG letter forms. The blue gradient color is used to express a feeling of empowerment, support, and forward progress.

This logo gradation should not be altered and new ones should not be created. Please reference the secondary logo when a gradation cannot be used in the logo. Horizontal and Stacked Logo orientations are available for use.

Secondary Logos

When a gradient is not applicable or available for design, use the solid color versions (Horizontal and Stacked) of our secondary logos. This maintains the integrity of the color system while transitioning to a one-color Breg logo using PMS 2728 and PMS 2758 from the same Pantone monochromatic color family.

We have both a positive and inverted version to allow for the logo to be used on dark and light backgrounds. One color logos should be used when printing specs or when lack of contrast on certain backgrounds do not allow for the gradient versions.

To ensure its visibility and impact, keep a clear space around the logo that matches the height of the letters in "BREG." Avoid placing any taglines or product names within this clear space to maintain brand integrity.

Colors

The Breg brand utilizes our primary colors in the logo treatment and was created for use in overall brand communication. A family of monochromatic tones offer flexibility while keeping the brand look and meaning intact. Secondary colors serve as accent shades or work alongside primary colors to create a modern contrast. PMS 354 C should be used sparingly as an accent color for graphics and minimal photo recoloring. Gradients should always be used in the order they appear below and never reversed, with evenly split stops. When printing with full bleed, the gradient must begin at the trim line rather than the bleed line to avoid losing key colors at the edges. Do not use the gradient at 90 degrees or flipped horizontally. Approval by the brand team must be given for all gradients used at an angle. Use the secondary gradient sparingly as a subtle accent only.

Primary Typography

The Breg brand has a typeface with a wide variety of font weights and styles to give some flexibility and increased functionality in brand communication. We use the fonts specified here.

Halogen

Halogen is an attention-grabbing typeface, with fonts available in several weights; black; bold; medium; regular; light, thin and hairline - along with additional oblique options (not shown). Bolder weights are used for primary headings (H1), titles, product names and headlines or when extra emphasis is needed. All capital headings and titles can also be used for emphasis. Regular, medium, bold and black can also be used for secondary headings and benefit call outs. Lighter weights should only be used at larger sizes to ensure readability.

Pathway Extreme

Pathway Extreme is available in several weights; Thin; Extra Light; Light; Regular; Medium; Semi-Bold, Bold, Extra Bold and Black. Light, Regular and Medium can be used for body copy. This typeface allows for better legibility in paragraph form and smaller size.

Text Proportions

Using the body font as the point of reference, ensure that sub-headers appear larger and more prominent than the size of the body text. Primary headers should be the largest in size using Halogen for Product Names or Pathway Extreme for secondary headings. Keep headings consistent throughout each communication.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

When placing a logo on a photograph, make sure it's clearly visible and not overpowered by the image.

Forward Icon:

The Forward Icon is a central symbol in Breg's brand identity, representing our unwavering commitment to progress in both our products and business solutions. It embodies our dedication to innovation and continuous improvement, reflecting our goal to enhance patient outcomes and provide exceptional support to healthcare professionals.

The Forward icon should not be used as part of or in place of the Breg logo but as a standalone graphic. It must always point to the right; DO NOT flip or change its orientation. It can be used in the brand colors shown on this page.

Backgrounds:

Solid Color or Gradient Backgrounds:

Use the Forward Icon as a solid, non-transparent element. Ensure the icon contrasts well with the background for visibility. Use with approved colors listed above.

Lifestyle Images:

Apply the Forward Icon as a transparent overlay. Maintain a subtle effect to enhance the image without overpowering it.

> Forward Icon Usage

The Forward Icon was created to add a modern feel and interest to brand communications. On this page there are some examples of the Forward Icon usage. These examples are not meant to be the only usages but can be used as a guide for design intent.

As a simplified design element, it can be used as a super graphic extending off the page. Embossing, spot gloss or spot matte printing can create a unique attention grabbing effect and add interest to marketing collateral. Ensure that when used with the Breg logo there is at least a 0.5 inch clear space around the logo, not to overlap the Forward Icon design element or compete with the logo. The Forward Icon should maintain the sideways V orientation with the opening to the left; point to the right, and should NOT be rotated in any other orientation.

The Forward Icon colors are allowed to shift when applied as a semi-transparent overlay on images or screen back. Do not change or adjust gradients when used this way. When overlaid on images, ensure that subjects in images and the Forward Icon do not compete. Subjects can be extracted and overlaid on top of the Forward Icon for better visibility and is the preferred design.

Brand Graphics

Forward Strider

The Forward Strider design element symbolizes forward movement towards recovery, business growth, solutions, and innovation. Its dynamic lines and fluid shapes convey a sense of progress and vitality, reflecting Breg's commitment to helping individuals advance in their recovery journey while also driving the brand's mission of continuous improvement and innovation in healthcare solutions. For use on Breg packaging and in Brand communications. Avoid overlaying on photos or when crowded with other graphics.

Motion Wave

The motion wave design element serves as a visual metaphor for the positive momentum that drives transformation and success. Use intentionally with the forward strider, in lifestyle images, and alongside uplifting text, ensuring it aligns with its purpose of depicting positive momentum and recovery.

All Together

The Forward Strider and Motion Wave design elements can be utilized together or independently in non-product-specific brand communications. Their combination or individual use enhances the brand's message of progress and vitality, allowing for versatile applications across various materials. This flexibility ensures that the visual identity remains cohesive while effectively conveying the brand's commitment to recovery, growth, and innovation.

Brand Tagline

Breg is implementing a fresh approach to taglines and product names. The BREG logo will now stand alone, without any taglines, product names, or business unit titles attached. Instead, these elements will be presented separately, enhancing clarity and strengthening brand identity. This shift emphasizes the Breg logo while allowing product names, taglines, and business unit titles to shine independently.

The Breg tagline "Keep Moving Forward" encapsulates the brand's dedication to innovation and progress in injury prevention, recovery, and business solutions. It encourages a proactive mindset, emphasizing resilience and the continuous journey toward improvement.

Keep Moving Forward — Colorize Forward to Stand Out using brighter shade.

Keep Moving	Forward
Font: Pathway Extreme, Semibold Tracking set to: 50pt.	Font: Pathway Extreme, Semibold Italic Tracking set to: 50pt.

Typography: When using the tagline "Keep Moving Forward," use Pathway Extreme Semibold or Bold for the font style. The word "Forward" should be italicized and should match the weight of "Keep Moving". If space is limited, the tagline may be split into two lines with "Keep Moving" on the first line and "Forward" on the second. The word "Forward" is italicized to convey a sense of action and momentum.

Placement: The tagline should be positioned prominently in communications, ensuring it stands out. Use it in marketing materials, alongside product descriptions, or as part of promotional campaigns to reinforce brand messaging.

Color Palette: Use PMS 2758 for "Keep Moving" and PMS 2728 for "Forward" to maintain Breg's aesthetic and create a visual hierarchy. If more contrast is needed for visibility on backgrounds, Breg's approved monochromatic colors or white may also be used. Ensure "Forward" is the brighter shade.

Contextual Use: Pair the tagline with visuals that reflect themes of progress, resilience, and mobility. Consider incorporating it in messaging around injury prevention, recovery, or business solutions, prompting the audience to think about what they will move forward with Breg.

Overuse: Use the tagline strategically to prevent it from becoming diluted. It should feel impactful each time it is used.
